

Resistance and Refusal in Israel Since 1967

Questions for Discussion

- Does the diversity and number of Israeli peace groups surprise you in any way? If so, how? Why do you think these groups are rarely represented in the media?
- How do you see the Israeli peace movement as changing or evolving since the start of the occupation until present day? Has the movement become more radicalized? More effective?
- How do you think the movement of Israelis refusing to serve in the military changed the Israeli peace movement?
- What are the lessons that American peace activists can learn from the Israeli peace movement?

American Friends Service Committee

Quaker values in action

Faces of Hope: A Campaign Supporting Nonviolent Resistance and Refusal in Israel and Palestine

To learn more about how you can support
Israeli conscientious objectors see:

www.afsc.org/faces-of-hope